CUTLERY

ABOUT CHARINGWORTH

Charingworth comes from the same stable as the iconic Studio William cutlery. Designed in the Cotswolds by industrial designer William Welch as an everyday dining collection, Charingworth's modern take on traditional features complements all settings and cuisines with well-balanced, timeless design.

Manufactured to exacting standards, this cutlery will stand the test of time. Our craftsmanship produces soft edged handles which are lovely to hold. The highly polished stainless steel is procured only from the most consistent and technically advanced steel mills, ensuring your cutlery is corrosion resistant and will stand the test of time.

We believe good cutlery enriches the dining experience and helps bring the table alive. Our design process is meticulously detailed, ensuring every pattern looks and feels good in the hand and mouth.

FIDDLE VINTAGE SATIN

Vintage Satin Finish & Heavy Weight

Fiddle cutlery first made an appearance in England around the 1760s. We have taken this traditional design and modified it, bringing it into the 21st century. Our Fiddle range retains the finer details that capture the spirit of this much-loved pattern but with a modern twist. This range is perfect for making a statement on the dinner table. A range of sets and loose items available.

OUR SUSTAINABLE COMMITMENT

We're proud to have achieved the EcoVadis Silver Medal, placing us among the top 15% of companies assessed globally for sustainability performance.

This recognition reflects our commitment to responsible business practices across environmental management, ethics, labour & human rights, and sustainable procurement.

Our mission is simple- to design and make beautiful and elegant cutlery made to last generations. That makes Studio William and Charingworth inherently sustainable as after our cutlery has been cherished over generations it can easily be recycled. This is only possible by using high quality solid stainless steel and master tooling craftspeople who refine the nuances of each edge, curve and contour.

The biodegradable poly bags we use protects each item and reduces environmental impact.
